Rescued by Steamer.

The steamer Washington, which left here Thursday evening, for Norfolk, rescued Edward Burke, 20 years old, and Garfield Adams, colored, 14 years old, in the mouth of the Potomac shortly after one o'clock yesterday morning. Burke had stood seven hours in a submerged boat holding Adams, who was unconscious, in his arms. Burke and Adams live in St. Mary's county, Md. Second Mate Douglas Ross of the Washington heard cries of distress in the darkness. The searchlight was brought into use and Burke was seen standing in the submerged boat up to his neck in water, holding the apparently lifeless body of the colored boy in his arms. The two were placed on board the Washington. Half an hour more and both would have perished. As it was, the boy was almost gone and it was by the most heroic means that he was resuscitated. Mayor Riddick, of Norfolk, who is a physician, was aboard, and was quickly out of his berth rendering professional attention. Burke, too weak to undress himself, was put to bed by the crew, while the boy was being brought to consciousness. Burke and Adams left the former's place in St. Mary's Thursday morning at 9 o'clock to cross the Potomac to Yeoconco, in Westmoreland county, to buy gasoline. They started back across the river at 4:30, and their boat was capsized in a sudden squall and electrical storm which passed over the section at 5:30 o'clock. Burke and the boy clung to the boat until another squall struck her, and her masts and anchor fell out, causing her to right herself. They got in the boat again, and repeatedly in the succeeding squalls she turned over and over. It was a desperate struggle for life, but Burke displayed almost superhuman courage. Yesterday morning as the steamer neared Norfolk Mayor Riddick raised $14 among the passengers and presented this to Burke and the boy, who were cared for aboard the steamer. The Washington reached this port this morning with Burke and Adams aboard. They were taken to Washington and will be sent to their homes tomorrow.

Death of Dr. Purvis.

Dr. William Reginald Purvis died at the Alexandria Hospital at 10:50 o'clock last night. The deceased had for some time been a sufferer from bronchial trouble and a few weeks ago went to the Hospital for treatment, but his condition grew gradually worse till the end came. He leaves a widow, mother and sister. Dr. Purvis was born September 30, 1860, at Spring Hill, near Mobile, Ala., and was a son of William Purvis, esq., of Scotland. He was educated at Rosneath college, and graduated in medicine at the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia. He was married in June, 1892, to Elsie B. Ashby, daughter of the late F. Westwood Ashby, of this city. When a mere lad he came to Alexandria with his mother and was popular with all he met. His advance in his profession was rapid and he soon reached the front rank of the medical profession. For a number of years he was the Health Officer of this city and at the time of his death was City Coroner and one of the city physicians. Dr. Purvis was also a Past Master of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons and a member of Mount Vernon Chapter, R. A. M. Dr. Purvis enjoyed an extensive acquaintance and his courteous manner and friendly disposition added to the number of his friends daily. When it was known that his condition was serious there were many expressions of regret, especially from those who had availed themselves of his services as a physician, all of whom justly esteemed him.

There will be a meeting of the Alexandria Medical Society at Dr. McGuire's office at 8:30 o'clock tonight to take action in reference to the death of Dr. Purvis, whose funeral will take place on Monday next at 5 p. m.

Cargo of Phosphate.

The four-masted schooner Calumet, from Punta Gorda, Fla., with 1,800 tons of phosphate rock for the Alexandria Fertilizer and Chemical Company, has arrived. The Calumet made the passage in twelve days.

Drawing for Automobile.

E. H. Hobson, post machinist at Fort Washington, Md., held ticket No. 12, 153, which drew the touring runabout, the principal prize offered at the Elks' flower carnival in this city. The drawing took place in the Alexandria Light Infantry armory last night in the presence of a large number of people. Former Mayor Simpson and Commissioner of Revenue Charles Callahan, conducted the drawing. Several minor articles were disposed of last night. Conductor Nagel, of the Southern Railway, won a suit of clothes donated by L. Downey, of Washington; F. M. Hamilton got a handsome oval mirror, and others received groceries and liquors.

Other awards were made as follows: Mr. Thos. Caton, the auto excursion ride; Mr. John Reed, the prize (life membership in the Order of Elks) for selling the largest number of tickets for the automobile. The handsome loving cup was awarded to Judge L. C. Barley.

The Late Powell Snowden.

The following tribute to the late Powell Snowden, of this office, is from the Alexandria Sunday Times:

The death of Mr. Powell Snowden will be deeply regretted by his many friends in this city and they are counted by the hundreds, for who is it in this old burg that did not know this genial gentleman, for to these many years. From early childhood he had been connected with his family's paper, the old Gazette, and in the capacity of collector had become one of the most familiarly known men in the city, and with all, one of the most popular, for while filling a delicate and hard to fill position, and filling it with great credit and efficiency, he has had the tact and genuine gentility to fill it so as to make friends, something hard to do and rarely done in such a position. It is with deep regret that we record his death at the home of his sister, Mrs. Wallis, at the Seminary.

Big Show Coming.

Frank E. Griswold's Railroad Pavilion Ten Nights in a Barroom Company will appear Monday night on the old fair grounds, under a large water-proof tent fitted up in theater style. This company carries thirty people; a carload of scenery with calcium effects; a fine band of music and a superb orchestra and megaphone quartette. The play "Ten Nights in a Barroom" has always been a favorite temperance play in Alexandria, having been presented here by both star and amateur talent, and a large crowd will doubtless witness its production by this excellent company. A concert will be given by Prof. Holly Rossmyn's Military Band at noon on Monday and at 7:15 p. m. The child actress Marguerite will play the part of Mary Morgan, supported by a competent cast of characters.

Royal Arch Masons.

Mount Vernon Chapter, No. 14, Royal Arch Masons, at a meeting last night elected the following officers: Henry K. Field, High Priest; J. E. W. Timberman, King; W. H. Charles, scribe; W. L. Allen, Treasurer; K. Kemper, Secretary; Samuel P. Fisher, Captain of the Host; J. Parker Milburn, Principal Sojourner; R. H. Atkinson, Jr., R. A. Captain; M. S. Dinwiddie, Grand Master 3d Veil; Walter G. Rogers, Grand Master 2d Veil; W. G. Lebew, Grand Master 1st Veil; W. A. Moore, sr., Tyler; L. Ruben, Steward; Rev. J. H. S. Ewell, Chaplain.

City Licenses.

Mayor Paff today settled with the auditor the license account for the fiscal year. The mayor, assisted by Officer Young, collected $13,339.13. The following shows the practical increase in the amount collected in licenses during the past few years: 1901, $10,210.19; 1902, $12,476.70; 1903, $12,346.15; 1904, $12,209.09; 1905, $13,051.07. During the past two years certain occupations, not heretofore taxed, now require a license, which accounts, in a measure, for the increase.

Injured by Torpedo.

The explosion of a railroad torpedo seriously injured three children named Davis, living at Del Ray, in the county, yesterday evening. The children, two girls and a boy, were playing with the torpedo when it exploded. One of the girls was cut on the arm and the eyelid, and the other on the knee by pieces of the torpedo, and the boy was cut on the left shoulder. Dr. Delauer, of this city, rendered surgical aid to the children.

Luna Park.

There will be sacred concerts at Luna Park tomorrow. This new resort met with popular favor as soon as the gates opened, and it has continued to grow in popularity ever since. The management has spent much money in placing the park in its present attractive condition, and nothing will be left undone to maintain its popularity. The features are all modern and varied, there being something to suit all tastes.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Ollie Sykes, arrested by Officers Beach and Lyles charged with disorderly conduct, was fined $5.

A young man, arrested by Officers Beach and Lyles charged with disorderly conduct and with assault was fined $5.

The Market.

There was an abundant supply of country produce in market this morning. Butter and eggs were unchanged in price, as was also green stuff. Strawberries in abundance were offered. They sold in some cases as low as four cents per box. The better varieties, however, brought higher prices. The truckers have been considerably encouraged by the recent rains.

Thousands annually bear witness to the efficiency of Early Risers. These pleasant, reliable little pills have long borne a reputation and to none as a laxative and cathartic. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

Personal.

The many friends of Mr. Robert Whaley will regret to hear that he is extremely ill at his present home at Crookston, Minn.

Master Lester Breuner celebrated his fourth birthday at his home, 313 Wolfe street, yesterday. He received numerous presents, among them a hands-me piano, a present from his father.

Mrs. William Murray, who has been visiting her son, Mr. Thomas A. Murray, in Hampton, has returned to her home in this city.

Mrs. Phil. Leterman, of Charlottesville, is visiting her father, ex-Mayor Strauss, in this city.

Mrs. Theresa Higgins, who has been visiting the family of Mr. Zora Hill, has returned to her home in Richmond. Mr. C. W. Howell and family have gone to the country for the summer.

Memorial Day.

Tomorrow will be Confederate Memorial Day at Arlington. The graves of soldiers of the South who served in the civil war will be decorated with flowers at that cemetery, with exercises similar to those conducted Wednesday by the G. A. R. veterans. A number of Alexandrians will take part in the ceremonies.

The ladies in charge request that flowers intended for the decoration of graves of Confederates at Arlington be sent to the Confederate Veterans' Hall by ten o'clock tomorrow.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

There were more heavy showers of rain last night and this morning.

The vitrified brick to be used in repaving Lee street, between King and Prince, have arrived.

The schooner "Stonewall," loaded with lumber for Rock Point by Henry K. Field & Co., has sailed.

Several machinists and others employed at the Southern Railway depot in this city were discharged yesterday.

Children's Day services will be held at the Baptist Church Mission on north Columbus street, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

The meeting of the Virginia University Alumni Association to have been held at 5 o'clock on Monday evening has been postponed until the same time on Tuesday, on account of the funeral of Dr. W. R. Purvis, which is to take place on Monday evening.

Some laborers who attempted to replace the plank along the railway track at Cameron and Henry street this morning were forbidden by the authorities. An ordinance is now before council providing for the removal of the track on Henry street.

The old wharf at the foot of King street, south of the Washington ferry slip, is receiving temporary repairs. It is understood that a steamer which runs between Washington and a house boat off Jones's Point is to make stops at the wharf when it shall have been repaired.

Greenville Lewis, principal examiner of the division of steam engineering of the patent office, and one of the leading authorities in that science in the country, died at his home in Washington Thursday. He was born in Alexandria, August 16, 1840, and shortly thereafter his parents moved to Washington to make their home. During the war he served in the federal army and navy.
